Professional Summary

Support professional with experience across IT helpdesk and customer service. Known for clear communication, patience, and strong problem solving, I enjoy helping people, fixing issues, and keeping things running smoothly. I handle technical problems with confidence, from basic networking and device setup to Windows troubleshooting, while giving customers a positive and reassuring experience. Quick to learn new tools and processes, organised in fast-paced environments, and always looking for ways to improve how support is delivered. Passionate about AI technologies and committed to continuous learning in spare time to explore emerging tools and innovations in the field.
